typeface

A design colony

An autonomous co-working of design professionals who came together to form a unique multimedia house.

Typeface is the collaboration of our collective ideas and abilities.

Who are we, and what do we do?

Typeface is a small, managed group of dedicated designers who tend to live what some would call an alternative lifestyle. This is self-employed freelancing within a co-working or group environment, where we can lean on and learn from each other. Some of us are 20+ years in the design industry, some of us are new design buds, freshly blossoming.

We offer our work to clients who require a patient ear to understand and capture their ideas and offerings, without the rigid requirements of a high-street design house. At the same time we offer very reasonable prices, with an uncompromised professional output.

We can provide a complete service for your online presence, including photography, a feature rich website, well designed Search Engine Optimisation to bring you new customers, and all the graphical design help you need to raise awareness of your services and help your website flourish.

We are photographers, video editors, translators and editors, graphic designers and illustrators, language teachers and capable workshop leaders.

If you have any questions, please give us a shout. We very much look forward to working with you.

How does this work?

A beautiful interplay of clear communication.

We ask the questions we need to produce your online space. Through words and aesthetics we'll represent you and your services. Then, at each stage we'll check in with you for comment, and the dance begins.

We...

You...

We explain how to purchase or transfer your domain name and set up the cheapest, secure hosting services available on the internet.

Send us the credentials for the hosting.

Configure a temporary web page and configure your email addresses.

Complete the details in the project documents and give us ideas for branding and colours.

Upload photographs and content to our project area.

Begin building the website, asking further questions if required.

Continue to give us feedback.

Give you ideas for site content and advice in how to capture testimonials and gallery content.

Showcase your new online presence and show you how to configure updates (blogs, products etc) on your own. We'll walk you through the documentation and be here for you whenever you need us.

What's a project document?

At typeface we are transparent...

We provide a comprehensive document containing the complete agreements of your project. We document every detail, give you full access to the website and its technologies, fonts and assets. All security information, passwords and email configurations.

If we discuss something during the project, it goes into the project document!

If in the future you require assistance from someone other than ourselves, this document will provide all that's required to reconfigure or update your webpage, add email addresses etc.

From Cacao with love

My Personal Journey With Cacao

I came to understand the initial benefits of cacao, and some of the ancient rituals of Central and South America indigenous natives through my own personal investigation and then to my surprise, at my local yoga studio. One spring Sunday evening, my daughter and I attended a cacao meditation and sound healing ceremony. Not knowing really what to expect, we simply went with an open heart and mind. Although over the past 20 years, I have engaged with many alternative and holistic modalities, I can honestly say that I had never experienced anything like I did on my first connection with cacao. The ceremony—filled with peaceful and relaxing—was unbelievably transformative on all levels. I was able to feel and seemingly release emotional blockages that I hadn't even been aware I was holding onto. As well as letting go of limiting thinking and patterns of behaviour, I experienced what unfolded as powerful breakthroughs and insights into the changes I could make to move forward in my life. I have since, trained under the wise guidance of Shamanic teachers who focus purely on activating an inner energy through the carefully prepared ritual of raw, organic cacao.

My Ceremonies

I offer a small and intimate sacred space when offering ceremonies. These ceremonies begin with several necessary steps, creating the correct environment in order to evoke the connection to the space where we will do our work. These steps include setting our intentions, inviting in the Cacao Spirit and following our intuition. During the ceremony cacao gently supports authentic communion with your heart and heart wisdom, so that you can clear any stagnant or blocked energy which is preventing you from living your fullest potential and life. Cacao may help you to clear emotional blocks, ego patterning and self sabotaging behaviours, so that you can understand yourself on a deeper level, connect to your creativity, live intuitively and be the fullest expression of your true self.

How does cacao work?

Raw cacao contains an amazing range of beneficial properties, among these are precursors to neurotransmitters. These chemical messengers affect our mood and can very delicately alter our mental perspectives. These shifts, although subtle, can bring forth an awakened emotional intelligence, a door to personal transformation through inner journeying and self-love. If you trust, surrender and get out of your own way, then cacao can show you many insights. If you choose to work with cacao with commitment, she can be the bridge that awakens you to your personal power and encourages you to make simple changes so that you align with who you truly are and live an authentic and limitless life.

Cacao as a Plant Medicine

The entire cacao fruit was used medicinally by the Mayan, Olmec and Aztec civilizations and is still used today in ceremonial context in South America and globally by trained and dedicated practitioners. Identified as a complete food source, cacao has more than 300 phytochemicals, including vitamins, minerals, and dietary nutrients such as fat, carbohydrates, fiber, iron, zinc, copper, potassium, phosphorus, calcium, magnesium, and sulfur. It also has quercetin, flavonoids, flavanols, xanthines, polyphenols, caffeine, theobromine, phenylethylamine, and anandamide, among others. It has many uses as a stimulant, antibacterial, antioxidant, and protector of the cardiovascular system.*

*Cacao is a wake-up food. It wakes you up to your full power, to who you truly are, to the potentiality of the moment, to the infinite & abundant nature of the universe."
Katie Magee (Raw Food Expert)

Ceremonial grade cacao

My ceremonial cacao is soulfully produced fresh for each ceremony. I lovingly blend organic Peruvian cacao bean with spring water to produce a warm, soft and velvety drink.

Is a c

Each person has their own experience with Cacao. Messages and emotions. If you have a personal d increases the energetic field of our hearts, and is o often comes with an intelligent message that r relationships, ancestral clearing, or in understand

Satya

Satya extracts from the unconscious profound and divine truth. She initiates those who are ripe for radical growth by transmuting preconceived boundaries and limiting beliefs into powerful change-making tools.

Always using humor, joy, and uncompromising truth, Satya has positively transformed a multitude of obstacles into the very strength that ignites her journey. With her own successes as stepping stones, she stands as the very lighthouse in showing others how to find their strength. Unraveling the mysteries of emotions, knowing that our pains only ask to teach us about ourselves via direct observation - free of suppression or judgement - can we truly rest within ourselves. She does so by using tools from the path of Tantra, Emotional Release, and Shamanic Guidance. An eternal student of life, she knows that just as she pushes the boundaries of her own comfort zone, in the same way she pushes the edges of her own knowledge. Thus encouraging others along this path.

"We are all on a journey, but the next step is not always clear. How can I know where to go? Which direction is for me? What is my heart's desire? What fears hold me from my heart? It seems that the heart always knows the right answer, but to receive it one must learn to listen."

With Love, Satya

Satya's Practice

As a dynamic therapist and group facilitator, my routine is dependent much on my schedule. However, I maintain the absolute minimum of practice with daily meditation and inner child commitment. This ensures that my advice and given practices are relevant to the present moment and continue to develop through tested personal subjective experiences. I am open to discuss my current process with my clients as I believe that sharing the journey is a key in supportive transference and makes the most of a collaborative, guiding relationship.

Areas of Expertise

Among the years Satya has been assisting people along their journeys she has had the opportunity to train with some great teachers and has attained the following certifications in her quest to become a world class personal practitioner.

- OSHO Meditation Facilitator
- AUM Meditation Leader
- Family Constellations Practitioner
- NLP Master Practitioner
- TLI Practitioner
- Inner Child Practitioner

Let's take a second

The range of treatments and practices that I offer are holistically interrelated. Meaning that they each contribute towards the same result of spiritual liberation. Whilst this is the case, there are some practices that have more specific goals. This is where we can identify the specific areas in which you will benefit most from my careful guidance and support.

Opening to love, opening to receive, liberating to love, heart-opening are all terms used to explain a personal development of receptivity to an energy and information that all living beings can connect. The goal of most spiritual practices and treatments are in nurturing the sensitivities of our real-time sensory information or intuition. Along this path we begin to understand a deeper emotional and physical connection with ourselves. This is the place where the work that I offer here will begin.

Instead of presenting just a list of personal practices and treatments, it's important also to explain the inter-relationship between each one. The ecology of spiritual developmental work in crucial when customising individual practices. Please feel free to read through all the techniques that are explained throughout the website.

12 Session Private Mentoring and Treatment plan

I welcome you into your new life @ A life where your preoccupations are liberated @ where hollow un-serving desires are reprogrammed into supportive relationships and a deep content with your directional journey @ Are you ready to begin your path to self-fulfilment?

I have dedicated my life to study and research, and have created a combined method of many tools which can be applied to guide you along your path. I'm offering a private 12 meeting process, which will allow you to begin a profound change. This process provides a safe environment for healing and researching your identity and behavioural models, relationships, anxiety, fears, trauma, patterns of actions and more. We'll examine various issues and then begin a path to a growth oriented change, towards awareness and self acceptance.

In our joined journey we'll use tools and treatments from various methods:
NLP & Time Line Therapy for deep emotional release and trauma recovery @ Inner Child Meditation, Shamanic Clearing, Dream Work @ Family Constellations

A quick mention about your Daily Core practice

A daily practice is an incredible part of personal spiritual development, especially if one is to gain the full benefits of our work together. So, I would like to give you a general idea about what daily practice entails so that you can feel confident in your discussing and carrying out these practices.

A daily practice can be anything from a 10 minute meditation each morning to a jam-packed schedule of yoga, inner-child regression, ceremony and prayers. Each of my offerings are designed to bring confidence and empowerment into your daily routine practice, as these repeated activities will enhance your spiritual stability and provide you with the experiential aspects of each practice. I can help you to organise your schedule and advise the practices that may allow you to gain the biggest progress towards your personal goals.

Ayahuasca Retreats in Peru - Traditional Healing, Deep Integration

Experience the transformative power of authentic Andean and Shipibo-led ayahuasca ceremonies in Peru, guided by both ancient wisdom and modern integration practices. At Willkamayu Spirit, we bridge the realms of knowing and feeling - where the Condor and Eagle fly together - ensuring that your healing is deeply felt and fully integrated into your life.

APPLY FOR A RETREAT DATE

More Than an Ayahuasca Retreat - A Journey of True Integration

Ayahuasca has the power to reveal profound insights, but true healing happens when those insights are grounded into your daily life. We combine the sacred traditions of Peruvian plant medicine with expert-guided Inner Child Work, helping you to integrate your experience at the deepest level.

Authentic Ayahuasca Ceremonies in Peru

Honoring the Andean and Shipibo Tradition

Our Ceremonies follow the ancestral teachings of the Shipibo and Andean shamans, the original caretakers of ayahuasca medicine. In small intimate groups you'll experience:

A safe, guided ceremonial space with Peruvian healers

Heal childhood wounds and subconscious patterns

Carefully prepared, ethically sourced ayahuasca

A deep connection to the spirit of the medicine

This is the meeting of the Condor and the Eagle - A union of deep spiritual wisdom and grounded psychological integration.

Healing Beyond Ceremony - The Power of Inner Child Work

Integrating the Medicine into Your Life

Ayahuasca opens the door to healing, but integration is the key to lasting change. Our Inner Child approach helps you:

Understand the messages of your experience

Heal childhood wounds and subconscious patterns

Receive one-to-one support before, during, and after your retreat

Anchor spiritual insights into real, lasting transformation

Your hosts are a husband and wife team, Jhon, a Peruvian Ceremony facilitator and Janneke a Therapist and an expert in integration. At Willkamayu Spirit, we provide a bridge between the spiritual revelations of the ceremony and the practical steps needed to bring healing into your life.

WILLKAMAYU SPIRIT

Teaching women to listen to the wisdom of their bodies

BOOK A DISCOVERY CALL CONTACT ME

Have you heard the call?

The divine feminine is rising and She's calling each of us to join Her.

She's asking us to return to our bodies and heal our inner worlds. She's telling us it's time to free ourselves from our wounds.

She wants us to start giving to ourselves as much as we give to others. She's making space for us to birth our art, build our business, and develop our spiritual gifts.

Are you ready to ignite the piece of the divine that lives inside of you?

Hello love, I'm Trish

I design 1:1 transformation programs that teach women how to tap into the wisdom of their bodies so that they may find their joy and live abundantly.

But I truly believe that every woman resonates with the practices of her own unique vibration and in accordance with where she is on her path. What works for me may not work for you, what I struggle with may be your strength.

That's why I intuitively create my programs using the combination of tools that will support you best.

Some of the tools we may work with?

- ♀ Feminine Embodiment
- ♀ Womb Awakenings
- ♀ Archetype Work
- ♀ Somatic Practices
- ♀ Shadow Work
- ♀ Inner Child and Reparenting
- ♀ Quantum Energy Work
- ♀ Mindfulness
- ♀ Anxiety Management

Whether you're just starting this journey or you're ready to go deeper, my personalized 1:1 programs are a nurturing and safe space for healing & growth.

BOOK A DISCOVERY CALL

Life After the Program

Do you feel like something is missing? Like there could be more in your life? You're just not sure what it is or how to get to it?

Each of us come here to live a specific purpose. When you're not conscious of that purpose or how to fulfill it, your joy is limited.

The good news is your inner oracle knows your purpose and how to guide you there. I help you get in touch with Her, that little piece of the divine that lives inside of you.

By the end of your program, you'll know how to tap into the wisdom of your body to conquer any fears, doubts, or perceived limitations as they arise, ultimately creating a life of greater confidence, consciousness, and abundance.

What is Abundance?

The Universe is always expanding and growing, always creating more, birthing new life. The Universe is in a constant state of plenty - and you are part of that.

Abundance is a very large quantity of anything and everything. You can have an abundance of:

- ♀ Peace
- ♀ Happiness
- ♀ Friendship
- ♀ Clarity
- ♀ Opportunity
- ♀ Love
- ♀ Compassion
- ♀ Wealth

You can be completely content with everything in your life, you can be grateful for all the abundance you already have, and still welcome more.

In fact, gratitude for everything you are and all the blessings you have goes hand in hand with manifesting abundance, because this is our natural state of being.

You matter. You are loved. And you are worthy of it.

The woman I support

She... is beginning to take a deeper look at her life and she wants more. Maybe she doesn't know what that looks like just yet, but she's something else out there for sure.

Does she sound like you?

BOOK A DISCOVERY CALL

Client love

Being able to feel comfortable enough to open up to Trish did more for me than I thought words and the attention she gives you is pure medicine.

Christina

Hello, love

I'm Trish Keatings

Your Transformation Facilitator

I support women who are ready for big change in their life but don't know how or where to start.

These are women who have taken a look at their life and decided they wanted more.

Some of these women come to me already knowing what they want more of, some of them are still figuring out what's missing. Some have dabbled in spiritual healing practices, some are completely new to this realm. Some are mothers, some have extremely successful careers, some have or want both. Some suffer from anxiety, some carry trauma, some are so hurt and in so much pain they can't see their own potential, their own value, their own worth.

What they all have in common, what we all have in common, is that we are worthy of abundance. Abundance of happiness, abundance of love, abundance of choice, abundance of wealth, abundance of peace. We only need to make the time and space to look inward at what's been holding us back, supported by someone who's walked the path and can show us the way through.

And that's where I come in.

I've spent years healing and transforming my own life. The old Trish was:

- ★ Deep in more than a decade of alcoholism and all the dark places that can bring you.
- ★ Suffering from anxiety so overwhelming she vomited almost every day when she woke up.
- ★ In and out of depressive episodes that brought her to the brink of suicide.
- ★ Completely disrespectful of her own body and willing to allow others to be disrespectful, too.
- ★ Coping with unacknowledged sexual assault.
- ★ Working in a decent full-time corporate job and showing up for the daily grind, but absolutely miserable and unfulfilled.

One day, I decided I wanted to live. I decided to actively choose life. And with that decision came the realization that the only way to do that was to do it my way.

So, I did what any other fiery Aries would have done and jumped right off the deep end. I got sober, I got in touch with my inner desire to travel the world, I quit my job, I moved to Mexico, I decided I would work online, and I began my journey.

I dived into yoga and meditation, I explored ancient plant and earth medicines, I was called to get in touch with my inner child and my shadow, I've discovered embodiment and archetypes and feminine and masculine energetics.

I've used all of these to heal myself, to transform my life into the absolute magic that it is today, and to create all the abundance I have to be grateful for.

And now, what gets me more excited than anything is: I get to share that with you.

My 1:1 programs draw on the tools that I've learned along my journey. Intuitively guided to the combination that will support you best. I draw on a diverse toolbox that includes:

- ♀ Feminine Embodiment
- ♀ Womb Awakenings
- ♀ Archetype Work
- ♀ Somatic Practices
- ♀ Shadow Work
- ♀ Inner Child and Reparenting
- ♀ Quantum Energy Work
- ♀ Mindfulness
- ♀ Anxiety Management

Transforming by Design means that no two programs are ever the same, because I am a firm believer that we have all come here to fulfill our own specific purpose.

What I do is help you tap into the wisdom of your body and learn to trust the voice of your intuition. That inner oracle will guide us to your purpose, showing us the way through your healing and forward.

By the end of your program, you'll know how to tap into the wisdom of your body to conquer any fears, doubts, or perceived limitations as they arise, ultimately creating a life of greater confidence, consciousness, and abundance.

What will you do?

You will approach the Andean world from its skies, interpreting them and understanding their space and time. In the Dome Astronomy Workshop, we will share concepts of astronomy through observation, in a didactic and fun way. At the end, depending on the season, we will enjoy a beautiful experience observing the living universe with telescopes.

Idyllic jungle, location with quaint riverways, chocolate farms and an array of artistic talent.

The heart of the Peruvian Amazon is a fruit. Or several: cocoa, majambo, coffee, sapote, aguaje, camu camu, coconut. The list is long because the soil is fertile and the climate is favorable. Adorned with incredible tropical landscapes and amazing fauna, San Martin is the gateway to an Amazonian adventure.

Atmospheric Design

"Many people will experience, at least once in their lifetime, the urge to venture beyond the everyday world of the mundane into the world of the spirit. These journeys in the spiritual world often take us into a universe we normally do not encounter in our daily lives, and allow us to explore regions of our consciousness that we have not before known."
- Eva Wong, Taoism: An Essential Guide

Welcome

I come from a background of a loving family that also involved trauma and difficult experiences created PTSD issues in my teens that slowly became - especially as I got into my late 30's. Through the use of plant medicine in early 2006 while I was employed in the finance industry where I had management for about 15 years at that time. It was through the shamanic plant diets that I was able to heal and transform my life.

Early on in my work with these plant teachers, I heard the call of medicine ceremonies but dismissed it as a question my curiosity and uniqueness of the experiences. The call continued and shortly after I was fortunate enough to be invited to begin my deeper exploration of the plant with the gifted maestros I had been working with.

Since that time I have continued my practice with Aya and beginning over eight years ago, Huachuma shamanic plant diets. The diets are the foundation of my medicine practice with Ayahuasca, Huachuma, and Kambo.

It is with deep gratitude that I provide an experience for others so that they too may find balance, healing, and the inward journey of self-exploration that can be found working with these medicines in the lush and comfort around Tarapoto, Peru and in the mountains of the Sacred Valley of the Incas near Cusco, Peru.

"I'm so grateful for my time in dieta with John at Nova Terra. I felt so held the entire diet, both from having harvested the tree right on the property and knowing the tree spirit was literally surrounding me in every way, but also by John's care and presence. I knew I was taken care of so deeply that it allowed me to go even deeper with the tree and myself. Nova Terra holds such incredible beauty, I spent my days bathing in the river, soaking up the sun, just being with such lush, wild nature. It truly was a gift, one where I continue to reap the benefits. I can not wait to return."

What can I achieve with yoga?

Yoga is an incredibly holistic practice and is not simply a catalogue of asanas. Modern uses of yoga focus on the physical aspects so that is what I will cover here first. As stated, yoga gently pushes on our range limits, softening rigidity and increasing longevity. Yoga can reconnect you to your childhood subtlety and bodily exploration. You can see again what the sole of your foot looks like close to your face!

...ice can seriously rehabilitate the effects of office work and lack of movement. I worked in seated jobs for almost 20 years. It took 4 years to transition to a more active lifestyle. I have been able to retain my knees 2 & 3 which can now be retained during 10 hour meditations.

A period of integration and practice is recommended during which support and guidance is provided face to face, which provide supporting feedback, suggestion of new techniques and help.

FINE CHOCOLATE

FROM TREE TO BAR FINE CHOCOLATE

Our tree-to-bar chocolate is produced in the same vicinity as our farm and farmers who are involved in the final stages of post harvest production and take the finished chocolate home for their family to enjoy.

Crafting premium chocolate is a wondrous and rewarding experience that demands a dedicated lifestyle of patience and persistence. It's a journey. We have learnt how to nurture our crop to perfection and the delicate methods of producing international standard fine chocolate. We would like to share with you below, the process we navigate and the considerations that are made at each step of transformation from the tree to the bar.

Nina Chocolate uses only single origin cacao from Chazuta, a region at the edge of the Amazon within San Martin, Peru, an area world famous for its consistently high quality cacao. Fundo Q'q'qa, our farm in Chazuta, and other farms in the region, provide us with high quality, naturally grown, fine flavor cacao.
